These income statistics are based on all Active Distributors during the 2007 calendar year. A "Distributor" is any person who has executed a Distributor Application and is in good standing with the company. "Active" means a Distributor who received a check in a given month. To be issued, a check must be at least $10 USD. Monthly Earnings amounts reflect the actual check amounts. International checks were converted to USD using the exchange rate in effect the day the check was paid. Annualized Earnings were calculated by multiplying the average Monthly Earnings by twelve. Categories represent paid Ranks, not Title. Unilevel checks were counted for the month earned; Powerstart checks were counted for the last day in the period earned.

The income statistics reported in this presentation are based on the individual efforts of XanGo Distributors and are not typical of what you can expect. Business success varies widely according to market conditions and the time and effort devoted.
