Elite Protection Services LLC is pleased to announce it is expanding its menu of services to include background investigations and other private investigation services. Ed Baumann, who served as a Village of Pewaukee police officer for 38 years before retiring as its chief in 2013, has put together a team of professionals who bring decades of experience in law enforcement or investigative journalism to job of making you feel safe.

Unfortunately, many people who ask for your trust are not trustworthy. Everyday we all see media reports about employees, teachers, caregivers and others abusing the trust they were given. These "trusted employees" are caught stealing or committing worse offenses. Often it turns that unsuspecting employers unwittingly hired people who had criminal records or a history of problems.

Protect yourself and your clients by letting our Elite Team scour local, state and federal records and other documents to find out whether a potential employee or business partner deserves your trust. Our Elite Team, which now includes award-winning investigative reporter Cary Spivak, will give you a competitive advantage. You will be able to tell your clients that you care enough to have a State of Wisconsin Licensed Private Detective Agency thoroughly vet your workers before you send them to a client's home.

Contact Ed Baumann at 262-370-4470 to learn about our various background check offerings, beginning with our Standard Investigation that includes an exclusive eight-point investigation. Elite Protection Services also offers more intensive background investigations as well as a wide variety of other security, research and investigative services, including litigation support, corporate investigations and asset searches.
