

Alice Keys – the staff attorney for Judge Christopher Mehling

Stephanie Dietz – the lawyer representing the mother of Ben's child in their child custody case

Alice Keys and Stephanie Dietz, we need to have a little talk. The conversation that we're gonna have now in the message that's going to be sent is going to be really fucking direct. And that message is this: Knock it the fuck off.

I want you to be very clear. So help me God, if I see any shit like this again, if I see it one more fucking time, that the restraint that I feel I have shown to both of you, that the ample opportunities I've given both of you to fucking just knock it the fuck off and stop doing petty corruption like this. And it's not that petty.

I don't know who the fuck you think you are. Or what the fuck you think you're doing and how the fuck long you think you can get away with it. It's a pretty crafty little scheme. But at the end of the fucking day, we don't do this shit. And this is a court of fucking law. And so long as I fucking see this, I just ain't gonna have it. I just ain't gonna have it. You understand me?

I am comfortable speaking on behalf of the public directly to you motherfuckers. In saying this, knock it the fuck off. If you got a problem with my language or what I'm saying or how I'm doing it, you fucking stand up like big girls and speak out. Please sue my ass. I want you to understand this. You want to give me the best fucking Christmas gift anybody's ever given me?

Give me a fucking reason to blow your asses up. Be the best Christmas present I've ever gotten.

I've been accused of a lot of shit okay? Heard a lot of stuff. All the normal shit. You know what I've never heard? I've never heard that somebody's asked me for help and I haven't helped them. And I've never heard that I made a commitment and I didn't follow through on it. And I want to make sure that you understand the commitment that I make to you and the people of Kenton County today.

And that commitment is this, I swear to fucking God if I see anything like this again, every resource in my arsenal, every ounce of energy that I have, and every person that works at this law firm will be committed, full bore, to bringing the wrath of motherfucking God down on both of you guys. Understand?

And if anybody out there... any of the lawyers or litigants experiences the same thing, which they almost certainly will not. It's taken a long time to get to the point where because of our objections, the matter is brought to the attention of the judge. And kudos to the judge for doing the right thing and getting it right. And I've always believed that things operated the way that they should and if he were aware of these things, he'd get it right. And he did. He followed the law.

But that fucking shit is bullshit. Alice Keys, you're not the fucking judge.

Stephanie Dietz, is fucking wrong to knowingly avail yourself of that kind of corruption. I don't want to hear that shit. That chicken shit bullshit. Well, I didn't do anything wrong. I just emailed the fucking court. You emailed the fucking court knowing what you were fucking doing and that you were going to get the fucking outcome that you fucking wanted. You made the decision to take advantage of a corrupt actor and that's just as corrupt and I don't want to hear it.

Listen. Bring everything you fucking got, if you want to, on me. And go fucking nuts that I put this on fucking Facebook. I only care about one fucking thing. I've caught the two of you with your hand in a fucking cookie jar 10 times. And I've stood down a lot. No more. On behalf of the people of Kenton County, knock it the fuck off.

And I'm glad we had this talk.
